

2012 Chairman's Message

As we approach another Christmas season, with all the joy, excitement and merriment that is part of the tradition, I am once again delighted to extend Season's Greetings to all of the Amalgamated Security Family. At this busy and chaotic time of the year, we easily forget the true meaning of Christmas as we share many common activities. We must all remember to pause and be thankful for all the cherished and important things in life that God has granted us and our organization for 2012, our health, our good fortune and our family and friends.

This year I would like to single out all those persons who form part of our support structure, "the Amalgamated Family", and say thank you to them for their continued loyalty to us. When we think about our lives and the things that enrich us and create meaning, those things that are hard to live without; they would have to be our family and close friends. We are very blessed at ASSL to have the support of so many families and close friends, as these people have created a support structure like no other for this organization and its employees.

Many of you have sacrificed much in the name of progress and I would like to remind you that this organization could not be what it is without that sacrifice and devotion. Your continued support and commitment during the year 2012 has also helped us on our journey to fulfilling our new mission and vision statements. Taking charge as we usually do and in keeping with one of our mantels of being the catalyst for institutional change for the security industry, we hope to guide the future of the industry in our region. These sacrifices have not gone unnoticed and I wish to thank you all for your invaluable contributions and steadfast resolve towards keeping us at the pinnacle of our trade.

Our current focus is our new strategic goals for the next five years. Even though you may not be aware of these objectives, the Executives will be working tirelessly to implement the foundation of these initiatives. We have envisioned our bright future at ASSL and developed these goals to ensure we achieve that future while remaining the top provider in our business. We thank you for your endorsement of our efforts with our strategic insights and we pledge to work even more closely with you in the New Year, as we seek to transform ASSL in the Caribbean.

For 2013 I look forward to YOU, our greatest assets making your thoughts and suggestions known to us. As has always been, you are the foundation on which I will continue to build a great organization. Since our existence in 1983 we continue to make our mark on the industry in areas of innovation, technology and human capital development expanding our presence throughout the region successfully. We hope to make 2013 a year to focus on exceeding our customers' expectations so we can continue to create long-lasting relationships with them. I am particularly mindful of those of you who will be working over the Christmas period. Thank you again for your efforts and I know you will strive to do all you can to continue to deliver safe and quality services to all our ASSL clients.

Finally, I pray that each of you and your loved ones find great happiness, deep fulfillment, God's blessing, experience good health and prosperity in the upcoming year.

My fellow Directors, All members of the Executive staff, Management and Middle Management, Field Staff and Officers, my family and I wish you a very happy holiday season and an incoming year filled with peace, joy and prosperity.

Chairman, Michael Aboud

MERRY CHRISTMAS!!
