

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

DAWN OF THE NEW MILLENNIUM

The dawn of the 21st century, a new era is here. Last year was quite an experience with the millennium meeting us with anticipated fears and anxieties of the Y2K bug.

Amalgamated Security Services Limited had its fair share of responsibility on its shoulders, but with the support and cooperation of all staff, we pulled through to the satisfaction of our clients. It was commendable of all employees who sacrificed their precious time in a positive manner to our Y2K callout. I am happy to embrace your commitment to our contingency plan in ringing in the year 2000 successfully.

Amalgamated Security focuses on making life safer for all citizens of our nation, striving to maintain our position as the leading provider in both private and corporate security as well as security related services locally and regionally. Our intention for this new millennium has been to conform to a quality system that meets the requirement of ISO 9001. By this, we are meeting the satisfaction of our customers resulting in wider horizons and marketability.

The year 2000 saw us focusing on the development of the technical and electronic aspects of our operations. Following through from 1999 we continued to advance in our electronic Alarms and Monitoring systems. With modern technology, we managed to focus on computerizing all our systems, thus making our transition between the old "pen and paper" system into the modern computerized age a smooth and fulfilling one.

Our employees are encouraged to advance themselves in technology to survive in modern times.

I take this opportunity to invite you to grow with us and share in our successes. On behalf of the executives and management of Amalgamated Security I wish all our employees and their families good tidings and God's blessings throughout the Christmas season and the coming year.

*MERRY CHRISTMAS &
HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ALL*
